Sixteen players from our U18 girls squad and eight players from our U18 boys squad will take the next step into in post-secondary performance play.

Simon Fraser University is the biggest bridge this year as eight of our players will move to the mountain campus. Sabryna Bailey, Sarah Caravatta, Alyssa Clark, Tyra Gunara, Katelyn Magdalinski, Kiera Scott, and Kate Smith will be representing the women's Red Leafs in NCAA Div.2 competition. Cole Toupin will be joining the men's Red Leaf team with the goal of bringing home the GNA Conference title.

The Cascades from the University of Fraser Valley is gaining five of our club graduates. Danielle Coss, Rylan Gray, and Dessa Peterson will join the rising UFV women's program. Dylan Lee and Adam Szymanski joining the always strong men's program.

Three players will make the trip across the Georgia Straight to the University of Victoria. Maia Broughton and Makayla Peluso along with Thomas Sullivan will join the Vikes as they look to challenge for the Western Canadian U-Sports title.

Ava Ferreira and Sofia Peckenpauh will move across the city to compete for the UBC Thunderbirds who are consistently factoring into the Canadian national title chase.

Reconnecting as teammates in the Okanagan are Dario Fedele, Varun Kothary, and Mark Perizzolo as they join the UBCO Heat with goal to impact play in their freshman year.

Elijah Oamen will travel across the country as he joins the University of New Brunswick Reds program to battle for Atlantic University Conference titles.

Kaitlyn Johnson will travel to the North Shore with the Capilano University Blues that has become a consistent partner for the club and Tara Krsmanovic will bring her game to Douglas College to lead the Royals. Both programs looking to annually challenge for CCAA national play-off spots.
